

Synthetic Section One

The tracker normalises stage values before rollup. Each opportunity carries a close confidence score between zero and one hundred. Deal desk reviews every non standard discount before approval. Solution engineers validate the proposed architecture during solution fit. Delivery readiness is scored again after every security review. Forecast calls use the same definitions as the warehouse semantic model. Handoff to customer success requires an accepted deployment plan. Blockers are logged against the mutual action plan rather than the stage. Risk sub scores are stored so the total can always be explained. Retention rules purge exported copies on the corporate schedule. Artifact links are immutable and are never copied into free text fields. Row level security is enforced before any artifact is retrieved.
